

GROUP OPERATIONS REVIEW 2014

REALIGNING STRENGTHS

Now that the restructuring exercises and product rationalisations have come to a completion with the consolidation of Pelikan and Herlitz businesses under one management for European operations in March 2014, the Group managed to focus on its core businesses and realigned its key strengths backed by leaner cost structures and operations for the Group's largest market. Thereafter, the Group further streamlined all the key stationery organisations and assets worldwide to create a focused stationery organisation under the helm of Pelikan AG (formerly known as Herlitz AG) as a next step to further realign its strengths to meet the market challenges, improve sales and profitability going forward.

The Group further believes that by focusing on building up the brands, the R&D and innovation of new products; and developing more distribution channels, the Group will be able to achieve better sales performance, higher product margin contributions, stronger brand awareness and reach to consumers, and most importantly delivering high quality writing instruments and stationery for school, office and home consumption for all generations of end consumers.

GROUP CORPORATE SERVICES

Corporate Planning

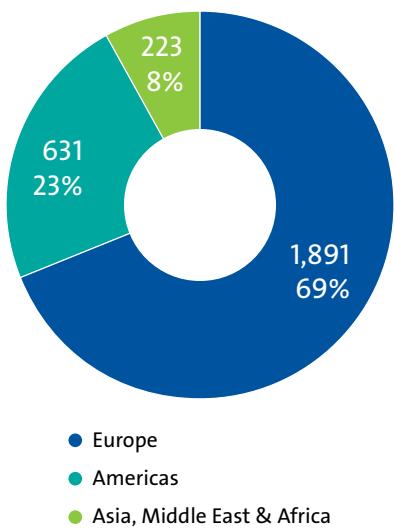

On 4 February 2014, the Group disposed off HCZ Real Estate s.r.o, a wholly owned subsidiary of Pelikan AG. In addition, Pelikan Distribution Verwaltungs GmbH and Pelikan Hardcopy Distribution GmbH & Co. KG were incorporated on 19 February 2014 and 26 February 2014 respectively. These subsidiaries are the wholly owned subsidiaries of Pelikan Holding AG. On 8 April 2014, Pelikan Hardcopy B.V., a wholly owned subsidiary of Pelikan Hardcopy Production AG was incorporated. The printer consumables business was carved out of the existing sales organisations to deliver a clear organisation each focused on stationery division and printer consumable division as there were many market changes over the years which now require the businesses to be managed separately and for further business growth going forward.

On 23 May 2014, the Company announced a proposed private placement and on 8 July 2014, 40,500,000 new ordinary shares of RM1.00 each in the Company was issued at RM1.33 per share, raising a total of RM53,865,000 for the Group's working capital, repayment of bank borrowings and defray expenses related to the exercise.

In March 2014, the Group completed the integration of the Herlitz Germany/Austria stationery business into Pelikan Germany. On 10 November 2014, the Group further initiated a Heads of Agreement to streamline the worldwide key stationery organisations and assets under Pelikan AG. The streamlining exercise was approved by the relevant shareholders in December 2014, and on 5 March 2015, the parties entered into a contribution agreement to effect the transaction and the transactions are being implemented therefrom.

Human Resource and Employees

As of 31 December 2014, the Group had a total headcount of 2,745 employees (2013: 2,852), a decline of 3.8% from 2013. Out of the total workforce, 1,891 (68.9%) of the Group's employees were based in Europe, 631 (23.0%) from offices in Latin America, and 223 (8.1%) were based in Asia and Middle East regions. The breakdown by department of employees were as follows: 60 employees in R&D and product development, 866 employees in production facilities, 321 employees in warehousing, 503 employees in sales and 194 employees in marketing. The lower headcount for the Group was brought about by the consolidation exercise between Pelikan and Herlitz businesses in Europe as well as the downsizing of the production facilities in Scotland and Switzerland. The reduction in headcount was necessary to ensure higher productivity and efficiency with the lower cost structure post-consolidation. Nonetheless, the Group strives to train and retain its best talents by ensuring a healthy and stimulating work environment for employees to excel in as well as favourable rewards for good performing staff.

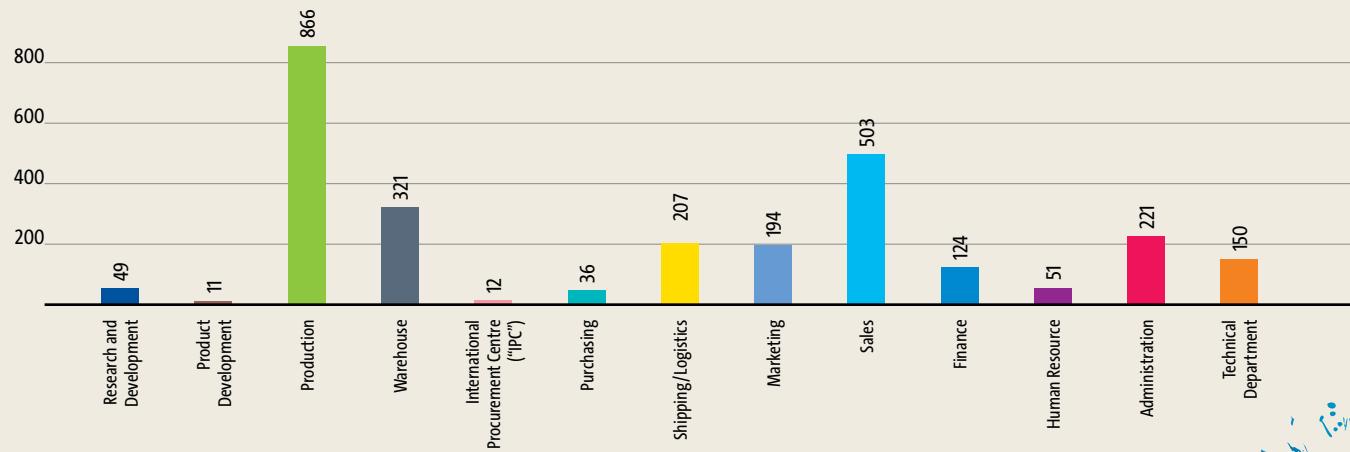

Group Production, Product Development and Research and Development ("R&D")

In 2014, Group Production continued to focus on reducing the production complexities, concentrating on core competencies and production units that will bring about profitability, and elevating competitiveness in order to set up an economical and sustainable manufacturing process. The Group Production shifted focus to R&D strategies as the production facilities have more capacity to facilitate expansion and more production lines to come up with stronger product offerings.

In Vöhrum, Germany, Group Production initiated the manufacturing of the rollerball cartridge, a product that we have been dependent on a competitor for supplies. A production process was developed with a special machinery manufacturer and a leading company in the field of laser technology to assist with the manufacturing of writing instruments and this has secured the Group significant quality advantage vis-à-vis our competitors. To further improve the utilisation of production capacity, the first steps taken were to offer specific services within the industry for external markets. The Group managed to do so with the construction of injection moulding tools and a supply contract for plastic injection parts. The Vöhrum, Germany plant managed to record improvements in production costs with the reduction in labour costs as a result of successful labour union negotiations which began in 2013.

Pelikan Hardcopy Production AG ("PHPAG"), which is responsible for the manufacture and distribution of printer consumables, focused on implementing the planned Hardcopy (printer consumables) business unit in Europe wherein all the printer consumable businesses are carved out into separate operating units. The transition from production and technical driven organisation to a market and sales related company with technical know-how has proved to be very challenging but PHPAG managed to do so with much success. In order to strengthen the printer consumables business unit, PHPAG decided to withdraw from the industrial sales business of toner powder and started the disinvestment of the toner plant in Switzerland. The industrial toner formulations and business have been sold by end of 2014 and the plant is currently producing under contract for an OEM customer. The final closure of all toner powder operations are planned for the first quarter of 2016.

Last year, PHPAG worked mainly on stabilising the R&D for inkjet cartridges which has to concentrate on the qualification of third party goods and the development of a selected quantity of IP ("Intellectual Property")-free compatible cartridges till the prototype phase. In this aspect, the project for Canon PGI-550/ CLI-551 and the Epson T128 were launched as new products. In 2014, there were 102 projects launched which increased compared to 2013. The development of new compatible inkjet cartridges, which includes patents, technical know-how and equipment, takes place in the Czech Republic plant but the manufacturing is executed at the Glenmarie, Malaysia plant. Therefore a close collaboration between both plants is essential and is implemented via constant communications. PHPAG expects the market environment in Europe for printer consumable products to shift rapidly from traditional sales channels into business-to-business, corporate and e-commerce structures. The classic retail model will be replaced more and more by digital marketplaces. Therefore the main focus is to identify and select business partners and customers that have transpired successfully within the new market spheres and to fulfil their requirements and needs.

All of the Group's production plants and locations were recertified as ISO 9001 and ISO 14001 management systems by the Swiss Certification Institute ("SGS" SOCIETE GENERALE DE SURVEILLANCE SA)

The Group Production conducts annual risk assessment and instructions for all workplaces and continuously promotes health, safety and environmental initiatives such as flu shots for employees, skin protection awareness for production workers, waste separation and recycling of reusable materials, reduction of power and water consumption, usage of renewable energy for plant heating, usage of energy-efficient printing and copying machines, investments in energy-efficient LED lighting for the injection moulding department, and gymnasium classes for staff in Switzerland.

PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT AND R&D

during a multisite assessment in November 2014. For the product groups containing wood and paper elements, the Group has extended the FSC Certification to include the other organisations such as Pelikan International, Pelikan Germany, Pelikan AG, Susy Card, and Herlitz Spolka under one registration. Additionally Susy Card GmbH was certified for the PEFC standard, another international certification for wood and paper products. With regards to the new European timber regulation (EU 995/2010), the Group implemented an internal procedure to ensure only wood and paper products sourced through legal means and qualified companies are imported.

The Group anticipates a change in the biocide legislation in September 2015 and is aware that CLP/GHS regulations for mixtures will be in place by June. Hence, PHPAG has prepared to review the inkjet formulations and the labelling of all printer consumables products in order to generate new MSDS documents for all the printer consumables available in the market.

In 2014, the Group invested a total of RM17.8 million (2013: RM21.1 million) in fixed assets for the R&D of new products, production machinery, and sales and marketing divisions. As with previous years, the R&D strategy remained focused on strengthening the market share of Pelikan's product lines particularly in the school segment. The R&D for the chemical department was to develop new inks and ink formulations to continuously improve the products and adhere to strict chemical regulations imposed in the region.

The total investment in fixed assets last year in Vöhrum, Germany amounted to €2.1 million for the manufacturing of new products such as the Edelstein ink cartridges, P200 fountain pens, Porsche Design Shake Pen Big, writing instruments range griffix® and Pelikan, erasable highlighter and Space+ paintbox. In addition, the Group also invested in tools and machines to manufacture roller pen cartridges, machine for laser treatment, injection moulding tool for cap ink bottles and central cooling machine for the injection moulding department. Other investments for sales and marketing activities included new shop furniture and website expansion.

Fine Writing Instruments

In 2014, Pelikan launched the P200 and P205 series of Classic fountain pens with ink cartridge mechanism, supported by the beautiful Edelstein Ink Cartridge range sold in embossed metal boxes. The M101N tortoiseshell red, a traditional piston fountain pen, was also a star product as it came with a beautiful historic gift box with a matching historic ink bottle. Apart from the successful products launched, the Group also presented the Maki-e Unique auction, featuring seventeen individual Maki-e fountain pens for auction and sixteen pens were sold for a total value of over €100,000. Bidders were mainly from Germany, Spain and Japan, and the event significantly generated good publicity and enhanced brand image for Pelikan.

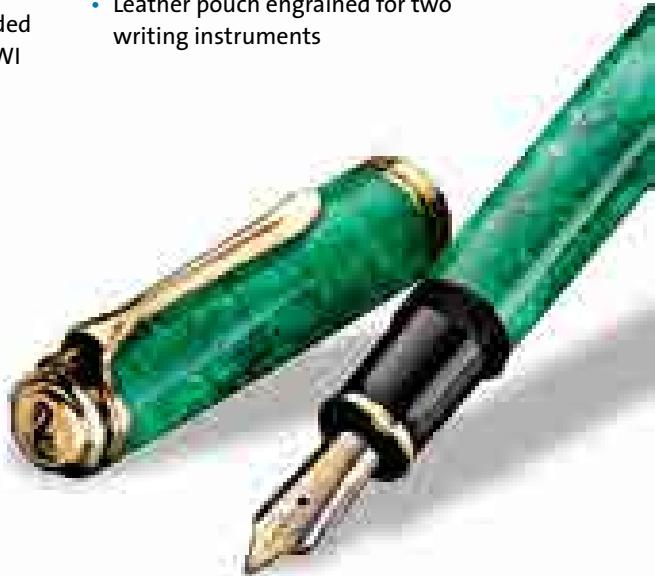

More can be read at www.pelikan.com/auction. Another highlight in 2014 was the global Pelikan Hub meetings held in June – a new concept combining online and offline marketing – which gathered Pelikan fans all over the world in their respective cities and created buzz in the pen communities. The Hub gave us a better understanding of our consumers. The Group also initiated the “Make A Wish Nib” programme which was to open the Vöhrum, Germany production to consumers for guided tours. Though the targeted group is extremely selective and niche, the Group has had overwhelming response to the programme and the guided tours are always almost fully booked. The consumers on these guided tours are shown the making of our FWI and at the end of the tour, they are given the chance to purchase personalised nibs. This programme has allowed Pelikan to gain more recognition for handmade quality products that are made in Germany through the hype created by our fans. The social media project launched last year, Wanderlust, is still ongoing with constant interaction between the fans and the company with visibility and write ups on several social media platforms such as Facebook and Instagram. The Group is thrilled that our pen enthusiasts have responded positively to all our marketing efforts worldwide and we hope to bring more exciting marketing activities to our fans via online and offline mediums as well as launch new products this year and beyond.

Pelikan School and Office

In 2014, the re-launch of the griffix® learn to write concept in four steps was successfully implemented in Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium and Switzerland. The optimised quality and handling, improved grip zone fit and colourful designs were the key factors of success. The launch was also supported by marketing activities such as a highly attractive television spot with the key message 'With griffix® learning to write is fun!' that was communicated in Germany and accompanied by various point of sales materials. Another highlight product was the erasable highlighter under the office product range. The erasable highlighter was the invention of own production and R&D capabilities, with technical details from the chemical and technical departments. This product targets mainly the pupils and students who use a lot of textmarkers for their studies. The erasable highlighter offers the option to correct mistakes made in highlighting by using the second tip of the pen and deleting the yellow highlights. The launch of the erasable highlighter was supported by marketing activities and promotions such as sampling cards, online banners and advertisements, as well as social media activities. A short promotional video was created to explain the benefits of the product in a witty way which garnered up to 1.5 million views in total through YouTube, Facebook and popular German blogs.

Printer Consumables

The strategy for printer consumables remains focused on offering printer supplies that have the same or even better quality and yield as the OEMs, but at a better price for the end users and higher margins for the distributors. In 2014, Pelikan launched 102 new products with over 60 new remanufactured toner cartridge modules for use in Brother, HP, Lexmark, Kyocera, Dell and Samsung laser printers of which many are coloured toner cartridges, a growing market.

New Products

- 63 toner modules for Brother, Epson, Dell, HP, Kyocera, Lexmark, OKI, and Samsung printers
- 9 compatible inkjet cartridges
- 7 inkjet refills

For 2015, Vöhrum, Germany will continue to focus on pursuing a meaningful product pipeline for launches in 2016 and beyond. The R&D will also focus on the development of remanufactured toner modules and inkjet cartridges, as well as the necessary chemicals such as toner powder and ink.

GROUP PROCUREMENT

The strategies for International Procurement Centre (“IPC”) in 2014 were to enhance product knowledge and shorten overall turnaround time for sourcing activities, to consolidate global demand of the Pelikan subsidiaries to mitigate cost impact, and to expedite customers’ orders pro-actively. IPC handled a total of 88 projects (2013: 84) in different product categories and sales regions. Due to challenges faced, such as more projects to handle in the midst of global economic uncertainties, huge costs volatility and the weakening of the Euro currency; overall costs increased for certain products, but IPC managed to achieve cost down for several projects through consolidation of global order quantities. IPC achieved total sales of USD30.8 million in 2014.

In terms of suppliers, IPC managed a total of 112 active suppliers (2013: 99 suppliers), an increase of 13.13% due to the management of huge orders for the Herlitz branded products. As with every year, suppliers are audited through the Group’s Supplier Assessment and Survey Form and factory audits are conducted by IPC. To the best of the Group’s knowledge, IPC enforces its “Code of Ethics” where audited suppliers must adhere to the strict policies stipulated as the Group does not tolerate forced or child labour involved or any other violation towards human rights. IPC also enforces suppliers to agree to the “Declaration of Conformity” to ensure that materials purchased and used do not contravene any European protection laws.

IPC expects frequent changes and updates in the EU legal and safety requirements, and more stringent requirements and documentations across the regions for this year and beyond. Nonetheless, IPC will continue to work together with current suppliers to attain the right quality products for the right price, and look at low cost countries such as India and ASEAN countries for sourcing and procurement of required goods.

STATEMENT ON CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY 2014

Pelikan Group respects the environment in which it operates in by being a responsible member of the society. Always looking for ways to give back to the communities, the Group vows to leave positive footprints wherever we are present and strives to strengthen our relationships with our stakeholders.

COMMUNITY

The employees of Pelikan Group have always been encouraged to make their contributions towards children's development and education causes – the heart of Pelikan's corporate social responsibility ("CSR") initiatives. In January 2014, Pelikan Malaysia employees came together to contribute to the children of 'Shelter 1' through the 'Discover Your Wishlist' Christmas sale that was held in December 2013. The sale was exclusive to Pelikan Malaysia employees and part of the proceeds from the sale were donated to the shelter, which is a home for under privileged children. The contribution was handed to the caretaker of 'Shelter 1', Brother GP Joseph, in a simple ceremony during Pelikan Malaysia's team visit to the shelter on 22 January 2014. The contribution included cash and Pelikan products for the children and the home.

As with previous years, University Malaya Medical Centre's ("UMMC") annual party for children with cancer received contributions from Pelikan Malaysia. The party, held on 17 May 2014, has become one of the most awaited events in the calendar year and it brought together the current and ex-patients of the pediatric cancer unit so they can share their invaluable experiences in fighting cancer. It is an event designed to bring joy to the patients and their family members via fun activities such as stage performances and singing, fancy dress and a colouring competition. Pelikan Malaysia sponsored oil pastels and coloured pencils for the colouring competition.

Pelikan Malaysia also sponsored the 'Charity Carnival – Engaging Our Community', an event that was supported by the Minister of Youth. It was held on 14 June 2014 at Bukit Damansara. The sponsorship included prizes and materials for the carnival's art competition.

STATEMENT ON CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY 2014

As the official supplier of the Romanian Royal House, Herlitz Romania is involved in the 'Books of Childhood', a CSR project coordinated by HRH Prince Nicholas of Romania. The project aims to introduce a national alternative reading programme for children aged 8 to 14 years. Under the project, donations of books and stationery were made to orphanages and schools in rural communities.

In Hungary, Herlitz supported Hungarian Interchurch Aid ("HIA"), one of Hungary's largest charity organisations. The collaboration has been going on for three years now, with Herlitz making contributions to underprivileged children in the country through HIA. Last year, they donated 1,000 sets of basic school items to the children. To raise awareness for this good cause, the packing of the stationery sets were done together in an event by Herlitz staff and three local celebrities – Kati Wolf (singer), Attila Katus (fitness champion) and Ildikó Lévai (the ambassador of HIA and the wife of the Prime Minister).

In UAE, Pelikan Middle East & Africa ("PMEA") continued its contribution to the Red Crescent Dubai. The contribution, which includes school bags filled with Pelikan products, were given to underprivileged children in Dubai.

Pelikan America has been continuously running social projects to contribute to the community. The focalisation of their CSR initiative is to support and give donations to schools or to foundations which support education.

AIDING GOOD CAUSES

Pelikan Malaysia supported the initiative of Zubedy (M) Sdn Bhd, together with Sri KDU Primary School, to organise the #PaintSomethingNice campaign where more than 400 students from the school took part in painting the Malaysia flag. The painting of the giant flag took place on 27 September 2014 to mark Malaysia Day. Pelikan Malaysia sponsored around 50 litres of red, blue and yellow Plaka paints as well as brushes for the students.

#SaySomethingNice From Pelikan to You

Pelikan Malaysia also participated in Zubedy's #SaySomethingNice initiative – a unity campaign for Malaysians to share positive words or inspirational messages for each other. Pelikan Malaysia employees were encouraged to leave their own words and messages on #SaySomethingNice posters provided for all to see.

In October 2014, PMEA supported Queen International School's 'Fit in Body, Fit in Mind, Obesity' awareness programme in Dubai. The programme was organised to raise awareness on healthy living. Dietitians and Health Specialists were invited to facilitate. Part of the programme involved colouring activities with a 'healthy living' theme, and PMEA contributed the colouring tools to be used.

FOR OUR PEOPLE

Pelikan Group views its employees as one of the company's most valuable assets. We believe strongly that a company grows and performs together with its employees. Therefore, their development is a priority to the Group. Employees are given regular training to improve their skills and knowledge in their respective fields and ensure they stay relevant, updated and competent in this fast changing world. Pelikan Group encourages employees to achieve their potential and awards those who constantly strive and perform beyond expectations.

Pelikan Group also takes the health and safety issues of its employees very seriously. Other than work-related training, safety training sessions are conducted annually, such as the Fire Aid Course + Fire Fighting Training given to the staff of Pelikan Production (M) Sdn Bhd from 6 to 8 June 2014. The training was conducted by St John Ambulance Malaysia. These types of training go a long way to ensure Pelikan Group provides safe workplaces for all to perform.

Pelikan Hardcopy Production AG (“PHPAG”) in Switzerland achieved the OHSAS 18001 certificate for 2014, which meant that PHPAG has a clearly defined management system in place to identify and control health and safety risks, and is able to minimise risks to their workforce and visitors or external contractors on their premises. In line with that, a weekly gymnastic class is offered to the staff every Tuesday, from 5pm – 6pm. This is to promote healthy lifestyles and to ensure the physical and mental wellbeing of its employees.

Pelikan’s plant in Vohrum, Germany and Herlitz’s in Spolka, Poland adopt preventive measures in handling health and safety issues. Last year, the plants organised a risk assessment exercise including a health & safety inspection, and held a preventive medical checkup for vision and hearing for its employees. A flu shot programme for every employee was also provided.

GREENER SURROUNDINGS

One of our aims has always been to be a responsible player in the industry. Adhering to rules and regulations is a priority we set for ourselves and this has guided us in moving forward without neglecting the need to stay within set boundaries to safeguard the surroundings we operate in.

The Group’s production plants have passed the certification for ISO 9001 and ISO 14001. These certifications ensure the Group maintains its quality system, ensures the need to systematise and improve environmental management efforts. PHPAG did an analysis of energy-consumption and waste quantity for their plants to conserve energy and reduce waste. To further reduce waste, PHPAG started to send non-usable empties to material re-use instead of disposal. They also opened a new recycling centre in Germany to help improve their recycling initiatives.

Pelikan’s plant in Vohrum, Germany reduced energy consumption by investing in energy-efficient LED-lightning for indoor and outdoor areas. They also reduced compressed air consumption by using more efficient new technology for air guns.

Herlitz’ plant managed to prolong its FSC Certificate for its product groups containing wood and paper. Additionally, the Susy Card GmbH was certified with the PEFC standard, another certification for wood and paper products. A new procedure to import only legal wood and paper products was implemented in response to the new European timber regulation that was enforced last year.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Group and of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards ('MFRSs'), International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRSs') and the provisions of the Companies Act, 1965 in Malaysia.

However, Note 38 to the financial statements has been prepared in accordance with Guidance on Special Matter No. 1, Determination of Realised and Unrealised Profits or Losses in the Context of Disclosure Pursuant to Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad Listing Requirements, as issued by the Malaysian Institute of Accountants ('MIA Guidance') and the directive of Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad.

The financial statements are presented in Ringgit Malaysia ("RM"), which is also the Company's functional currency. All financial information presented in RM has been rounded to the nearest thousand, unless otherwise stated.

2.2 Basis of accounting

The financial statements of the Group and of the Company have been prepared under the historical cost convention except as otherwise stated in the financial statements.

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with MFRSs requires the Directors to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and contingent liabilities. In addition, the Directors are also required to exercise their judgement in the process of applying the accounting policies. The areas involving such judgements, estimates and assumptions are disclosed in Note 4 to the financial statements. Although these estimates and assumptions are based on the Directors' best knowledge of events and actions, actual results could differ from those estimates.

2.3 Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Specifically, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

- Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee);
- Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee;
- Rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights.

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the financial year are included in the statement of comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company, using consistent accounting policies. Where necessary, accounting policies of subsidiaries are changed to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the other entities in the Group.

Intercompany balances, transactions, income and expenses are eliminated on consolidation. Unrealised gains arising from transactions with associates are eliminated against the investment to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no impairment.

Acquisitions of subsidiaries are accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. The identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are measured at their fair values at the acquisition date, except that:

- (a) Deferred tax assets or liabilities and liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with MFRS 112 Income Taxes and MFRS 119 Employee Benefits respectively;
- (b) Liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment transactions of the acquiree or the replacement by the Group of an acquiree's share-based payment transactions are measured in accordance with MFRS 2 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date; and

(c) Assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with MFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that standard.

The difference between these fair values and the fair value of the consideration (including the fair value of any pre-existing investment in the acquiree) is goodwill or a negative goodwill. The accounting policy for goodwill is set out in Note 2.5(a) to the financial statements. Discount on acquisition which represents negative goodwill is recognised immediately as income in the statement of comprehensive income.

Acquisition costs incurred are expensed and included in administrative expenses.

In business combinations achieved in stages, previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date and any corresponding gain or loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

For each business combination, the Group elects whether to measure the non-controlling interest in the acquiree at the acquisition date either at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets.

Non-controlling interests represent the equity in subsidiaries not attributable, directly or indirectly, to the owners of the Company, and are presented separately in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and within equity in the consolidated statement of financial position, separately from shareholders' equity. Losses within a subsidiary are attributed to the non-controlling interest even if that results in a deficit balance.

Components of non-controlling interests in the acquiree that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation may be initially measured at either fair value or its proportionate share in the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other components of non-controlling interests shall be measured at their acquisition-date fair values, unless another measurement basis is required by MFRSs. The choice of measurement basis is made on a combination-by-combination basis. Subsequent to initial recognition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity.

Changes in the Group's equity interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. In such circumstances, the carrying amounts of the controlling and non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their respective interests in the subsidiary. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interest is adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in shareholders' equity.

If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, at the date the Group loses control, it:

- Derecognises the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary at their respective carrying amounts.
- Derecognises the carrying amount of any non-controlling interest.
- Derecognises the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity.
- Recognises the fair value of the consideration or distribution received.
- Recognises the fair value of any investment retained.
- Recognises any surplus or deficit in the statement of comprehensive income.
- Reclassifies the parent's share of components previously recognised in other comprehensive income to profit or loss or retained earnings, as appropriate.

In the Company's separate financial statements, investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less any impairment charges. Dividends received from subsidiaries are recorded as a component of other operating income in the Company's separate statement of comprehensive income.

2.4 Property, plant and equipment

All items of property, plant and equipment are initially measured at cost. Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the subsequent costs will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance costs are charged to the statement of comprehensive income during the financial year in which they are incurred.

Each part of an item of property, plant and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the asset and which has a different useful life, is depreciated separately.

After initial recognition, property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Freehold land is not depreciated as it has an indefinite life. Construction/capital work-in-progress represents machinery under installation and renovation-in-progress and is stated at cost. Construction/capital work-in-progress is not depreciated until such time when the asset is ready for their intended use. Depreciation of other property, plant and equipment is provided for on a straight-line basis to write off the cost of each asset over their estimated useful life, as follows:

Buildings	50 years
Machinery, technical equipment and mould	1 - 30 years
Office equipment, furniture and fittings	1 - 15 years
Motor vehicles	1 - 10 years

At the end of each reporting period, the Group and Company assesses whether there is any indication of impairment. If such indications exist, an analysis is performed to assess whether the carrying amount of the asset is fully recoverable. A write down is made if the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount. Impairment assessment on property, plant and equipment is carried out based on the Group and the Company's policies as disclosed in Note 2.11 to the financial statements.

The residual values, useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to ensure that the amount, method and period of depreciation are consistent with previous estimates and the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits embodied in the items of property, plant and equipment. If expectations differ from previous estimates, the changes are accounted for as a change in accounting estimate.

The carrying amount of an item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amount is included in the statement of comprehensive income.

2.5 Intangible assets(a) Goodwill

Goodwill includes purchased goodwill and the excess of the fair value of purchase consideration of subsidiaries and associates over the Group's share of the net fair value of their identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities at the date of acquisition. Goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is reviewed for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

Negative goodwill represents the excess of the Group's share of the fair value of identifiable net assets acquired over the cost of acquisition. Negative goodwill is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income immediately.

(b) Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets are recognised only when the identifiability, control and future economic benefit probability criteria are met.

The Group recognises at the acquisition date separately from goodwill, an intangible asset of the acquiree, irrespective of whether the asset had been recognised by the acquiree before the business combination. In-process research and development projects acquired in such combinations are recognised as an asset even if subsequent expenditure is written off because the criteria specified in the policy for research and development is not met.

Intangible assets are initially measured at cost. The cost of intangible assets recognised in a business combination is their fair values as at the date of acquisition.

After initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on a straight line basis over their estimated economic useful lives and are assessed for any indication that the asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the entity shall estimate the recoverable amount of the asset. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

An intangible asset has an indefinite useful life when based on the analysis of all the relevant factors; there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the asset is expected to generate net cash inflows to the Group. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually and wherever there is an indication that the carrying amount may be impaired. Such intangible assets are not amortised. Their useful lives are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether events and circumstances continue to support the indefinite useful life assessment for the asset. If they do not, the change in the useful life assessment from indefinite to finite is accounted for as a change in accounting estimate in accordance with MFRS 108 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors.

Expenditure on an intangible item that is initially recognised as an expense is not recognised as part of the cost of an intangible asset at a later date.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. The gain or loss arising from the derecognition is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the asset is derecognised.

Research and development

Research expenditure is recognised as an expense when incurred. Expenditure incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. The amount initially recognised is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria as listed above. Product development expenditures which do not meet these criteria are expensed when incurred.

Development costs, considered to have finite useful lives, are stated at cost less any impairment losses and are amortised using the straight-line basis over the commercial lives of the underlying products not exceeding 9 years. Impairment is assessed on a yearly basis and whenever there is an indication of impairment. The amortisation period and method are also reviewed at least once at the end of each reporting period.

Trademark

Trademark relates mainly to the "Geha" brand (in printer consumables, office and presentation equipment) and was acquired through business combinations. The management believes there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the brands are expected to generate net cash flows to the Group. Trademarks are measured at cost and reviewed for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

Computer software

Computer software licences are capitalised on the basis of the costs incurred to acquire and bring to use specific software. These costs are amortised over their estimated useful lives (3 - 5 years).

Costs associated with developing or maintaining computer software programmes are recognised as an expense as incurred. Costs that are directly associated with the production of identifiable and unique software products controlled by the Group, and that will probably generate economic benefits exceeding costs beyond one year, are recognised as intangible assets. Direct costs include the software development, employee costs and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads.

Computer software development costs recognised as assets are amortised over their estimated useful lives (not exceeding 3 years).

2.6 Associates

Associates are entities in which the Group has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor an interest in a joint venture. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but has no control or joint control over those policies.

In the Company's separate financial statements, an investment in associate is stated at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

An investment in associate is accounted for in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, the investment in associate in the consolidated statement of financial position is initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter for the post acquisition change in the Group's share of net assets of the associate. The Group's share of net profit or loss of the associate is recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. When there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the associate, the Group recognises its share of such changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains or losses resulting from transactions between the Group and the associate are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associate.

After application of the equity method, the Group determines whether it is necessary to recognise an impairment loss with respect to the Group's net investment in the associate. At the end of each reporting period, the Group determines whether there is objective evidence that the investment in associate is impaired. If there is such evidence, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its carrying value, then, recognises the loss in the statement of comprehensive income.

Upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Group measures and recognises any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in profit or loss.

Equity accounting is discontinued when the carrying amount of the investment in an associate reaches zero, unless the Group has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

Goodwill relating to an associate is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is neither amortised nor individually tested for impairment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the associate's identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of investment is included as income in the determination of the Group's share of the associate's profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The most recent available audited financial statements of the associates are used by the Group in applying the equity method of accounting. Where the dates of the audited financial statements used are not coterminous with those of the Group, the share of the results is arrived at from the last audited financial statements available and management financial statements to the end of the accounting period. Uniform accounting policies are adopted for like transactions and events in similar circumstances.

2.7 Assets acquired under finance lease and hire purchase agreements

Leases are classified as finance lease and hire purchase whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risk and rewards to the lessee. Assets held under finance lease are initially recognised as assets of the Group at their fair values at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lease is included in the statement of financial position as a finance lease obligation. The capital element of the finance lease rental and hire purchase is applied to reduce the outstanding obligations and the interest element is charged to the statement of comprehensive income so as to give a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability at the end of each reporting period. Assets acquired under finance leases and hire purchases are depreciated over the useful lives of equivalent owned assets.

2.8 Operating leases

Leases of assets under which all the risks and benefits of ownership are effectively retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the lease period. When an operating lease is terminated before the lease period has expired, any payment required to be made to the lessor by way of penalty is recognised as an expense in the period in which the termination takes place.

2.9 Inventories

Inventories are stated at lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is determined using the weighted average method. The cost of raw materials comprises cost of purchase. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and an appropriate proportion of production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the costs of completion and selling expenses.

2.10 Employee benefits

(a) Short term employee benefits

The Group recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses where it is contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

Wages, salaries, paid annual leave and sick leave, bonuses and non-monetary benefits are accrued in the period in which the associated services are rendered by employees of the Group.

(b) Defined contribution plan

The Group's contributions to defined contribution plans are charged to the statement of comprehensive income in the period to which they relate. Once the contributions have been paid, the Group has no further payment obligations.

(c) Defined benefit plan

The liability in respect of a defined benefit plan is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of each reporting period minus the fair value of plan assets, together with adjustments for actuarial gains and losses and past service cost. The Group determines the present value of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of any plan assets with sufficient regularity such that the amounts recognised in the financial statements do not differ materially from the amounts that would be determined at the end of each reporting period.

The defined benefit obligation, calculated using the projected unit credit method, is determined by independent actuaries, considering the estimated future cash outflows using market yields, at the end of each reporting period, of government securities which have currency and terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability.

Re-measurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding interest) are recognised immediately in the statement of financial position with a corresponding charge or credit to other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Re-measurements recorded in other comprehensive income are not recycled. However, the entity may transfer those amounts recognised in other comprehensive income within equity.

Past service costs are recognised in profit and loss on the earlier of:

- The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
- The date that the Group recognises restructuring-related costs

Net-interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability or asset.

Defined benefit costs are split into three categories:

- service cost, past-service cost, gains and losses on curtailments and settlements;
- net-interest expense or income; and
- re-measurement

The Group presents the first two components of defined benefit costs in the line item “employee benefits expense” in its consolidated income statement. Curtailments gains and losses are accounted for as past-service costs.

Re-measurement are recorded in other comprehensive income.

(d) Termination benefits

The Group recognises termination benefits, according to the relevant laws applicable in the respective countries, when it is demonstrably committed to either terminate the employment of current employees according to a detailed formal plan without possibility of withdrawal or to provide termination benefits as a result of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy. Benefits falling due more than 12 months after the end of each reporting period are discounted to present value.

(e) Share-based payments

Equity-settled share based payments to employees are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date. Details regarding the determination of the fair value of equity-settled share based transaction are set out in Note 33 to the financial statements.

2.11 Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of assets, other than inventories, deferred tax assets and financial assets (excluding investments in subsidiaries and associates), are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated to determine the amount of impairment loss.

Goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are tested annually for impairment or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the goodwill or intangible assets might be impaired.

The recoverable amount of an asset is estimated individually. Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of the individual asset, the impairment test is carried out on the cash generating unit (“CGU”) to which the asset belongs. Goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's CGUs, or groups of CGUs, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Group are assigned to those units or groups of units.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or CGU's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of a CGU or groups of CGUs are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to those units or group of units and then, to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit or groups of units on a pro-rata basis.

2.11 Impairment of non-financial assets (continued)

An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income in the period in which it arises.

Impairment loss on goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period. An impairment loss for an asset other than goodwill is reversed if, and only if, there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The carrying amount of an asset other than goodwill is increased to its revised recoverable amount, provided that this amount does not exceed the carrying amount (net of amortisation or depreciation) that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of impairment loss for an asset other than goodwill is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

2.12 Income tax

Income tax in the statement of comprehensive income for the year comprises current and deferred tax.

Current tax expense is determined according to the tax laws of each jurisdiction in which the Group operates and includes all taxes based upon the taxable profits including withholding taxes payable by foreign subsidiaries and associates on distributions of retained profits to companies in the Group.

Deferred tax is recognised in full using the liability method on temporary differences at the end of each reporting period between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes. However, deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. See significant accounting estimates and judgements in Note 4.3(c) to the financial statements on deferred tax assets.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income tax relates to the same tax authority.

Deferred tax will be recognised as income or expense and included in statement of comprehensive income for the period unless the tax relates to items that are credited or charged, in the same or a different period, directly to equity in which case the deferred tax will be charged or credited directly to equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the end of each reporting period.

2.13 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and bank balances, deposits and other short term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to cash and which have an insignificant risk of changes in value. These also include bank overdrafts that form an integral part of the Group and Company's cash management. For the purpose of statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents are presented net of bank overdrafts and pledged deposits.

2.14 Borrowing costs

Borrowing cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset is capitalised as part of the cost of the asset until when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use or sale are complete, after which such expense is charged to the statement of comprehensive income. A qualifying asset is an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale. Capitalisation of borrowing cost is suspended during extended periods in which active development is interrupted.

The amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation is the actual borrowing costs incurred on the borrowing during the period less any investment income on the temporary investment of the borrowing.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income in the period in which they are incurred.

2.15 Revenue recognition

(a) Revenue

Revenue comprises the invoiced value for the sale of goods and services net of sales taxes, rebates and discounts, and after eliminating sales within the Group in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. Revenue from sale of goods is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods are transferred to the buyer. Revenue in respect of the rendering of services is recognised when the stage of completion at the end of the reporting period and the cost incurred can be reliably measured.

(b) Dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholders' right to receive payment have been established.

(c) Royalties

Revenue arising from royalties is recognised on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreements entered with customers.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

2.16 Share capital

(a) Classification

Ordinary shares are recorded at the nominal value and proceeds in excess of the nominal value of shares issued, if any, are accounted for as share premium.

When the Group repurchases its own shares, the shares repurchased would be accounted for using the treasury stock method. Where the treasury stock is applied, the shares repurchased and held as treasury shares shall be measured and carried at the cost of repurchase on initial recognition and subsequently. The consideration paid, including any attributable transaction costs, is deducted from equity as treasury shares until they are cancelled. No gain or loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments. Where such shares are issued by resale, the difference between the sales consideration and the carrying amount is shown as a movement in equity.

(b) Share issue cost

Cost directly attributable to the issuance of new shares are deducted from share premium.

(c) Dividends to shareholders of the Company

Interim dividends to shareholders are recognised in equity in the period in which they are declared. Final dividends are recognised upon the approval of shareholders in a general meeting.

2.17 Provision

Provisions are recognised when there is a present obligation, legal or constructive, as a result of a past event, and when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits would be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, the amount of a provision would be discounted to its present value at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, the provision would be reversed.

Provisions for restructuring are recognised when the Group has approved a detailed formal restructuring plan, and the restructuring either has commenced or has been announced publicly.

Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses. If the Group has a contract that is onerous, the present obligation under the contract shall be recognised and measured as a provision.

2.18 Warranty

The Group recognises the estimated liability to repair or replace products still under warranty at the end of each reporting period. This provision is calculated based on past history of the level of repairs and replacements.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

2.19 Foreign currencies

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ("the functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in Ringgit Malaysia ("RM"), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

(b) Foreign currency transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted into functional currency at exchange rates at the dates of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies at the end of each reporting period are translated into functional currency at exchange rates at that date. All exchange differences arising from the settlement of foreign currency transactions and from the translation of foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities are included in the statement of comprehensive income in the period they arise. Non-monetary items initially denominated in foreign currencies, which are carried at historical cost are translated using the historical rate as of the date of acquisition, and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value are translated using the exchange rate that existed when the values were determined for presentation currency purposes.

(c) Foreign operations

The results and financial position of all the Group's entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency (RM) of the consolidated financial statements are translated into RM as follows:

- assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate prevailing at the end of each reporting period;
- income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the dates of the transactions); and
- foreign currencies differences are recognised in foreign currencies translation reserves. On disposal, accumulated translation differences are recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income as part of the gain or loss on sale.

Exchange differences arising on a monetary item that forms part of the net investment of the Company in a foreign operation shall be recognised in the statement of comprehensive income in the separate financial statements of the Company or the foreign operation, as appropriate. In the consolidated financial statements, such exchange differences shall be recognised initially as a separate component of equity and recognised in the statement of comprehensive income upon disposal of the net investment.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments to the assets and liabilities arising from the acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the acquired entity and translated at the exchange rate ruling at the end of the reporting period.

2.20 Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one enterprise and a financial liability or equity instrument of another enterprise.

A financial asset is any asset that is cash, an equity instrument of another enterprise, a contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset from another enterprise, or a contractual right to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another enterprise under conditions that are potentially favourable to the Group.

A financial liability is any liability that is a contractual obligation to deliver cash or another financial asset to another enterprise, or a contractual obligation to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another enterprise under conditions that are potentially unfavourable to the Group.

Financial instruments are recognised on the statements of financial position when the Group has become a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. At initial recognition, a financial instrument is recognised at fair value plus, in the case of a financial instrument not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issuance of the financial instrument.

An embedded derivative is separated from the host contract and accounted for as a derivative if, and only if the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative is not closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative meets the definition of a derivative, and the hybrid instrument is not measured at fair value through profit or loss.

(a) Financial assets

A financial asset is classified into the following four categories after initial recognition for the purpose of subsequent measurement:

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss comprise financial assets that are held for trading (i.e. financial assets acquired principally for the purpose of resale in the near term), derivatives (both, freestanding and embedded) and financial assets that were specifically designated into this classification upon initial recognition.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets classified as fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of financial assets classified as fair value through profit or loss are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income. Net gains or losses on financial assets classified as fair value through profit or loss exclude foreign exchange gains and losses, interest and dividend income. Such income is recognised separately in the statement of comprehensive income as components of other income or other operating losses.

However, derivatives that are linked to and must be settled by delivery of unquoted equity instruments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market are recognised at cost.

Held-to-maturity investments

Financial assets classified as held-to-maturity comprise non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets classified as held-to-maturity are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Gains or losses on financial assets classified as held-to-maturity are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the financial assets are derecognised or impaired, and through the amortisation process.

Loans and receivables

Financial assets classified as loans and receivables comprise non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets classified as loans and receivables are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Gains or losses on financial assets classified as loans and receivables are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the financial assets are derecognised or impaired, and through the amortisation process.

Available-for-sale financial assets

Financial assets classified as available-for-sale comprise non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available for sale or are not classified as loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments or financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets classified as available-for-sale are measured at fair value. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of financial assets classified as available-for-sale are recognised directly in other comprehensive income, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses, until the financial asset is derecognised, at which time the cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income. However, interest calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income whilst dividends on available-for-sale equity instruments are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the Group's right to receive payment is established.

A financial asset is derecognised when the contractual right to receive cash flows from the financial asset has expired. On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the carrying amount and the sum of consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and any cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised directly in other comprehensive income shall be recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

A regular way purchase or sale is a purchase or sale of a financial asset under a contract whose terms require delivery of the asset within the time frame established generally by regulation or marketplace convention.

(b) Financial liabilities

Financial instruments are classified as liabilities or equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement. A financial liability is classified into the following two categories after initial recognition for the purpose of subsequent measurement:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss comprise financial liabilities that are held for trading, derivatives (both, freestanding and embedded) and financial liabilities that were specifically designated into this classification upon initial recognition.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial liabilities classified as fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of financial liabilities classified as fair value through profit or loss are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income. Net gains or losses on financial liabilities classified as at fair value through profit or loss exclude foreign exchange gains and losses, interest and dividend income. Such income is recognised separately in the statement of comprehensive income as components of other income or other operating losses.

Other financial liabilities

Financial liabilities classified as other financial liabilities comprise non-derivative financial liabilities that are neither held for trading nor initially designated as at fair value through profit or loss.

Subsequent to initial recognition, other financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Gains or losses on other financial liabilities are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the financial liabilities are derecognised and through the amortisation process.

A financial liability is derecognised when, and only when, it is extinguished, i.e. when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires. An exchange between an existing borrower and lender of debt instruments with substantially different terms are accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and the recognition of a new financial liability. Similarly, a substantial modification of the terms of an existing financial liability is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and the recognition of a new financial liability.

The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the original or modified terms of a debt instrument.

2.21 Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired at the end of each reporting period.

(a) Held-to-maturity investments and loans and receivables

The Group collectively considers factors such as the probability of bankruptcy or significant financial difficulties of the debtors or investee, and default or significant delay in payments to determine whether there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on held-to-maturity investments and loans and receivables has occurred. Other objective evidence of impairment include historical collection rates determined on an individual basis and observable changes in national or local economic conditions that are directly correlated with the historical default rates of receivables.

If any such objective evidence exists, the amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the financial asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. The impairment loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

The carrying amount of held-to-maturity investments is directly reduced by the impairment loss whilst the carrying amount of loans and receivables are reduced through the use of an allowance account.

If in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and it objectively relates to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date. The amount of impairment reversed is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

(b) Available-for-sale financial assets

The Group collectively considers factors such as significant or prolonged decline in fair value below cost, significant financial difficulties of the issuer or obligor, and the disappearance of an active trading market as objective evidence that available-for-sale financial assets are impaired.

If any such objective evidence exists, an amount comprising the difference between the financial asset's cost (net of any principal payment and amortisation) and current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, is transferred from equity to the statement of comprehensive income.

Impairment losses on available-for-sale equity investments are not reversed in the statement of comprehensive income in subsequent periods. Instead, any increase in the fair value subsequent to the impairment loss is recognised in other comprehensive income.

Impairment losses on available-for-sale debt investments are subsequently reversed to the statement of comprehensive income if the increase in the fair value of the investment can be objectively related to an event occurring after the recognition of the impairment loss in the statement of comprehensive income.

2.22 Contingent liabilities and contingent assets

When it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of an outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligation, whose existence will only be confirmed by occurrence or non occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of an outflow of economic benefit is remote.

A contingent asset is a possible asset that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by uncertain future events beyond the control of the Group. The Group does not recognise a contingent asset but discloses its existence where inflows of economic benefits are probable, but not virtually certain.

In the acquisition of subsidiaries by the Group under business combinations, contingent liabilities assumed are measured initially at their fair value at the acquisition date, irrespective of the extent of any non-controlling interest.

2.23 Segment reporting

Operating segment is a component of the Group that engages in business activities from which it may earn revenue and incur expenses, including revenue and expenses that relate to transactions with any of the Group's other components. An operating segment's operating results are reviewed regularly by the Group's Chief Executive Officer to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance, and for which discrete financial information is available. Additional disclosures on each of these segments are shown in Note 5 to the financial statements, including the factors used to identify the reportable segments and measurement basis of segment information.

2.24 Earnings per share

(a) Basic

Basic earnings per ordinary share for the financial year is calculated by dividing the profit for the financial year attributable to equity holders of the parent by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial year.

(b) Diluted

Diluted earnings per ordinary share for the financial year is calculated by dividing the profit for the financial year attributable to equity holders of the parent by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial year adjusted for the effects of dilutive potential ordinary shares.

3. ADOPTION OF NEW MFRSs AND AMENDMENT TO MFRSs

3.1 New and revised MFRSs affecting amounts reported and/or disclosures in the financial statements

In the current financial year, the Group has applied a number of new and revised MFRSs issued by the Malaysian Accounting Standards Board ("MASB") that are mandatorily effective for an accounting period that begins on or after 1 January 2014. The adoption of these new and revised MFRSs did not have any impact on the financial statements of the Group and the Company.

3.2 New and revised MFRSs in issue but not yet effective

The following are accounting standards, amendments and interpretations of the MFRS framework that have been issued by the MASB that are relevant but have not been adopted by the Group and the Company.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

4.1 Changes in estimates

Estimates are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Directors are of the opinion that there are no significant changes in estimates during and at the end of the reporting period.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS (continued)

4.2 Critical judgements made in applying accounting policies

(a) Contingent liabilities

When the Company enters into financial guarantee contracts to guarantee the indebtedness of other companies within its Group, the Company considers these to be contingent liabilities and account for them as such. In this respect, the Company treats the guarantee contract as a contingent liability until such time as it becomes probable that the Company will be required to make a payment under the guarantee.

The determination and treatment of other contingent liabilities are based on the Directors' and management's view of the expected outcome of the contingencies, after consulting legal counsel for litigation cases and internal and external experts to the Group for matters in the ordinary course of the business.

(b) Translation of foreign operation

The Group applied the direct method of consolidation to translate the financial statements of its foreign subsidiaries into the functional currency of the Company, which is also the presentation currency of the Group. Under the direct method of consolidation, the financial statements of all its foreign subsidiaries are translated directly into the functional currency of the Company.

4.3 Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that have significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements:

(a) Impairment of goodwill and trademark

The Group determines whether goodwill and trademark are impaired at least on an annual basis. This requires an estimation of the value-in-use of the CGU to which goodwill and trademark are allocated. Estimating value-in-use amount requires management to make an estimate of the expected future cash flows from the CGU and also to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The carrying amounts and further details are disclosed in Note 15 to the financial statements.

(b) Depreciation of property, plant and equipment

Changes in the expected level of usage and technological developments could impact the economic useful lives and the residual values, therefore future depreciation charges may be revised. Estimating the value-in-use amount requires management to make an estimate of the expected future cash flows from the CGU and also to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The carrying amounts and further details are disclosed in Note 14 to the financial statements.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS (continued)4.3 Key sources of estimation uncertainty (continued)(c) Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all unused tax losses and capital allowances to the extent that is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses and capital allowances can be utilised. Management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. The total carrying amounts of unused tax losses is disclosed in Note 20 to the financial statements.

(d) Impairment of receivables

The Group makes impairment of receivables based on an assessment of the recoverability of receivables. Impairment is applied to receivables where events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts may not be recoverable. The management specifically analyses historical bad debts, customer concentration, customer creditworthiness, current economic trends and changes in customer payment terms when making a judgement to evaluate the adequacy of impairment of receivables. Where expectations differ from the original estimates, the differences will impact the carrying amount of receivables.

(e) Impairment of assets

The Group determines whether an asset is impaired by evaluating the extent to which the recoverable amount of an asset is less than its carrying amount. This evaluation is subject to factors such as market performance, economic and political situation of the country.

Recoverable amount is measured at the higher of the fair value less cost to sell for that asset and its value in use. The value in use is the net present value of the projected future cash flows derived from that asset discounted at an appropriate discount rate. For such discounted cash flow method, it involves the use of estimated future results and a set of assumptions to reflect its income and cash flows. Judgment has been used to determine the discount rate for the cash flows and the future growth of the business.

(f) Write down for obsolete or slow moving inventories

The Group writes down its obsolete or slow moving inventories based on assessment of their estimated net selling price. Inventories are written down when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts may not be recoverable. The management specifically analyses sales trend and current economic trends when making a judgement to evaluate the adequacy of the write down for obsolete or slow moving inventories. Where expectations differ from the original estimates, the differences will impact the carrying amount of inventories.

(g) Impairment of development expenditure

Certain judgements in terms of assessing future uncertain parameters such as future economic growth, future inflationary figures, appropriate discount rates and etc., are required to be made in order to project the future cash flows of the development products. These judgements are based on the historical track record and expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the current circumstances. Where expectations differ from the original estimate, the differences will impact the carrying amount of development expenditure.

(h) Income taxes

The Group is subject to income taxes in a few jurisdictions. Significant judgement is required in determining the capital allowances and deductibility of certain expenses during the estimation of the provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the current income tax and deferred income tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

(i) Fair value of borrowings

The fair values of borrowings are estimated by discounting future contractual cash flows at the current market interest rates available to the Group for similar financial instruments. It is assumed that the effective interest rates approximate the current market interest rates available to the Group based on similar size and business risk.

(j) Defined benefit plan

The Group determines the present value of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of any plan asset based on calculations provided by independent actuaries using the relevant assumptions as disclosed in Note 26 to the financial statements. Where expectations differ from the original estimate, the differences will impact the carrying amount of the post employment benefits obligations.

5. SEGMENT INFORMATION

For management purposes, the Group is organised into business units based on their geographical locations of the assets. The management has determined the operating segments based on the reports reviewed by the Chief Executive Officer.

The Group is organised on a worldwide basis into 5 main geographical units:

- Germany
- Switzerland
- Rest of Europe
- Americas
- Rest of World

The accounting policies of operating segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies.

Segment revenue, expenses and results include transfers between operating segments. These transfers are eliminated on consolidation.

The ESOS that could potentially dilute the earnings per ordinary shares were not included in the calculation of diluted earnings per ordinary shares as it would have an anti-dilution effect thereon. Accordingly, the diluted earnings per ordinary share is the same as the basic earnings per ordinary share.

The recoverable amount of a CGU is determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations use cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the estimated growth rates stated below.

Key assumptions used for value-in-use calculations:

	EBIT MARGIN	2014 %	2013 %	GROWTH RATE		DISCOUNT RATE
	2014 %			2014 %	2013 %	2014 %	2013 %
Germany	5.0	0.4	1.0	1.0	1.0	5.0	5.2
Switzerland	3.2	2.6	0.1	1.3	1.3	5.3	5.1
Argentina	18.6	16.9	19.0	20.0	20.0	28.3	25.7
Japan	15.8	9.9	1.0	2.0	2.0	4.6	3.9
Taiwan	23.4	8.7	1.0	1.0	1.0	5.4	6.7

EBIT – budgeted earnings before interest and tax

Growth rate – weighted average growth rate used to extrapolate cash flows beyond the budget period

Discount rate – pre-tax discount rate applied to the cash flow projections

Management determined EBIT based on past performance and its expectations for the market development. The weighted average growth rates used are consistent with the forecasts within the industry. The discount rates used are pre-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the relevant country.

The management believes that there are no reasonable possible changes in any of the key assumptions used that would cause the carrying amount of the CGUs to materially exceed the recoverable amounts.

	GROUP	2014 %	2013 %
Discount rate		1.00 - 7.50	2.00 - 6.75

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined obligation are discount rate. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate is 50 basis points higher or lower with all other variable held constant, the Group's defined benefit obligation would decrease or increase by:

	GROUP	DISCOUNT RATE
	INCREASE BY 50 BASIS POINT RM'000	DECREASE BY 50 BASIS POINT RM'000
At 31 December 2014
(Decrease)/Increase on defined benefit obligation	(15,359)	16,445

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

26. POST EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS OBLIGATIONS (continued)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the statement of financial position.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

27. DERIVATIVE LIABILITIES

Group	CONTRACT/ NOTIONAL AMOUNT EUR'000	2014		2013
		LIABILITIES RM'000		CONTRACT/ NOTIONAL AMOUNT EUR'000	LIABILITIES RM'000
Interest rate swap		10,000	2,989	10,000	3,829

The Group has entered into interest rate swap contract with a total of EUR10 million resulting in an exchange of floating for fixed interest rates from fiscal year 2012 to hedge exposure to movements in interest rate on a financing transaction. For a period of 5 years, the variable interest rate is exchanged on the basis of the 3-month Euribor interest at 3.15%. The fair value of interest rate swap contracts is determined by reference to market values of similar instruments.

32. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

- (a) In the ordinary course of business, the business of Pelikan Hardcopy Holding AG and German Hardcopy AG groups (dealing with manufacturing and distribution of hardcopy related products and printer consumables such as inkjet and toner cartridges, thermal transfer, office media and impact cartridges, hereinafter referred to as the "Hardcopy business") is involved in several lawsuits. In particular, the Group has several large legal claims brought by Original Equipment Manufacturers ("OEM") for perceived breach of patents with an assessed potential maximum exposure of EUR6.0 million (RM25.5 million) (2013: EUR7.0 million or RM31.7 million). The Group is of the view that litigation matters are an inherent part of the Hardcopy business. Historically, the Group have been successful in defending most cases and management remains confident that the Group's exposure to these claims can be reduced or can be successfully defended. In the opinion of the management, the lawsuits, claims and proceedings which are pending against the Group will not have a material effect on the Group.
- (b) Based on the latest actuaries assumption as at 31 December 2014, Pelikan Hardcopy Scotland Limited's ("PHSL") retirement fund has GBP25.7 million (RM139.6 million) assets to meet its estimated pension liabilities of GBP38.0 million (RM206.5 million). The Company provided a corporate guarantee for the shortfall. An amount of GBP12.3 million (RM66.9 million) has been recognised as a pension liability of the Group for the financial year ended 31 December 2014 in accordance with MFRS 119.

The Group believes that its operational cash flow and the assets in the retirement fund of PHSL are sufficient to meet the payouts of the retirement scheme in the foreseeable future.

- (c) The Company has provided corporate guarantees to financial institutions and suppliers for financing arrangements of certain subsidiaries amounting to RM129,836,000 (2013: RM181,012,000).

The ESOS was effected on 1 March 2010 and is to be in force for a period of five (5) years from the effective date of implementation. It may be extended or renewed for a further period of five (5) years, at the sole and absolute discretion of the Board of Directors upon the recommendation of the Option Committee and pursuant to the by-law, and shall not in aggregate exceed a duration of ten (10) years from the effective date of implementation. On 6 February 2015, the ESOS expiry period has been extended for a further three (3) years to 28 February 2018.

- (ii) The Company may from time to time grant option to eligible employees of the Group to subscribe for new ordinary shares of RM1.00 each.
- (iii) Subject to the determination and discretion of the Option Committee, ESOS may be granted to any Director named in the Register of Directors of the Company or any employee who is a confirmed full-time employee of the Company and/or its eligible subsidiaries and if that person is servicing under a fixed term of contract of employment, the contract (including any period of employment which that person has already served) should be for a duration of at least one (1) year of continuous service.
- (iv) The total number of shares to be issued under the ESOS shall not exceed five percent (5%) of the issued and paid-up share capital of the Company at any point of time throughout the duration of the ESOS and of which not more than fifty percent (50%) of the Company's new shares available under the ESOS shall be allocated, in aggregate, to Directors and senior management. In addition, not more than ten percent (10%) of the Company's new shares available under the ESOS shall be allocated to any individual Director or employee who, either singly or collectively through person connected with the eligible employee, holds twenty percent (20%) or more in the issued and paid-up share capital of the Company.
- (v) The option price for each share shall be the higher of the weighted average market price of the Company's shares, as quoted on Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad, for the five (5) market days immediately preceding the date of offer of the option with a discount of not more than ten percent (10%), or the par value of the shares of the Company of RM1.00 each.
- (vi) All new ordinary shares issued upon exercise of the options granted under the ESOS will rank pari passu in all respects with the existing ordinary shares of the Company except that the so allotted and issued shares will not be entitled to any dividends, rights, allotments or other distribution, where the entitlement date precedes the date of allotment of the new shares and will be subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association of the Company relating to transfer, transmission or otherwise of the Company's shares.

34. SIGNIFICANT RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In addition to related party disclosures mentioned elsewhere in the financial statements, significant related party transactions entered into by the Group during the financial year are set out below. These transactions were carried out in the normal course of business and have been established under negotiated and mutually agreed terms.

35. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

(a) Capital management

The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to ensure that it maintains a strong credit rating and healthy capital ratios in order to support its business and maximise shareholder value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, in light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes during the financial years ended 31 December 2014 and 31 December 2013.

The Group monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is derived by dividing the amount of borrowings, net of cash and bank balances over shareholders' equity. At the end of the reporting period, the Group's net gearing ratio is 0.63 times (2013: 0.51 times). The Group's policy is to keep its gearing within manageable levels.

(b) Methods and assumptions used to estimate fair value

The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follows:

Financial instruments that are not carried at fair value and whose carrying amounts are reasonable approximation of fair value

The carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities, such as trade and other receivables, trade and other payables and borrowings, are reasonable approximation of fair value, either due to their short-term nature or that they are floating rate instruments that are re-priced to market interest rates on or near the end of the reporting period.

The carrying amounts of the current portion of loans and borrowings are reasonable approximations of fair values due to the insignificant impact of discounting.

Obligations under finance lease, fixed rate bank loans

The fair value of these financial instruments are estimated by discounting expected future cash flows at current market interest rates available for similar financial instruments and of the same remaining maturities. The carrying values of these financial instruments approximate their fair values.

Quoted shares

The fair value of quoted investments is determined by reference to the exchange quoted market bid prices at the close of the business on the end of the reporting period.

Unquoted shares

The carrying values of investment in unquoted shares approximate fair values.

Derivatives

The fair value of the interest rate swap contracts is the amount that would be payable or receivable upon termination of the position at the end of the reporting period, and is calculated as the difference between the present value of the estimated future cash flows at the contracted rate compared to that calculated at the spot rate as at the end of the reporting period.

(c) Fair value hierarchy

The following table provides an analysis of financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value, grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value is observable.

Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's financial risk management policies seek to ensure that adequate financial resources are available for the development of the Group's businesses whilst managing their risks. Financial risk management is carried out through risks reviews, internal controls systems and adherence to the Group's financial risk management policies that are approved by the Board. The use of financial instruments exposes the Group to financial risks, which are categorised as credit risk, liquidity and cash flow risk, interest rate risk, foreign currency risk and market price risk. It is the Group's policy not to engage in speculative transactions.

The policies for controlling these risks when applicable are set out below:

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss that may arise on outstanding financial instruments should a counterparty default on its obligations. The Group and the Company's exposure to credit risk arises principally from its receivables.

Receivables

The Group has a credit policy in place and the exposure to credit risk is managed through the application of credit approvals, credit limits and monitoring procedures.

The Group does not have any significant exposure to any individual customer. A significant portion of its trade receivables are regular customers that have been transacting with the Group. The Group uses ageing analysis to monitor the credit quality of the trade receivables. The ageing of trade receivables as at the end of the financial year is disclosed in Note 22 to the financial statements.

The Company provides unsecured loans and advances to subsidiaries. Management monitors the operating results of its geographical units separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and performance assessment.

The Group and Company's maximum exposure to credit risk arising from the receivables is represented by the carrying amounts in the statements of financial position.

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (continued)

Financial guarantees

The Company has provided corporate guarantees to financial institutions and suppliers for financing arrangements of certain subsidiaries. The financial guarantees have not been recognised since the fair value on initial recognition was negligible.

(b) Liquidity and cash flow risk

Liquidity and cash flow risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting financial obligations due to shortage of funds. The Group's exposure to liquidity and cash flow risk arises primarily from its various payables, loans and borrowings. The Group's objective is to maintain a balance of funding and flexibility through the use of credit facilities, short and long term borrowings.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Group's and the Company's liabilities at the end of the reporting period based on contractual undiscounted repayment obligations.

(c) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of the Group's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's exposure to interest rate risk relates to interest bearing financial assets and liabilities. The Group's policy is to obtain the most favourable interest rates available. Any surplus funds of the Group will be placed with licensed financial institutions to generate interest income.

The Group has entered into interest rate swap contracts to manage exposures of its borrowings to interest rate risk. The contractual repricing allows the Group to receive interest at fixed rates and to pay interest at floating rates on notional principal amounts.

(c) Interest rate risk (continued)

The following table illustrates the effect of changes in interest rates at 31 December 2014. If the interest rates at the end of the reporting period increased by twenty five (25) basis points with all other variables held constant, the Group's and the Company's profit before tax will improve/(decline) by:

	2014 RM'000	2013 RM'000
Group
Increase by 25 basis points	(966)	(1,012)
Company
Increase by 25 basis points	(753)	(773)

A similar decrease of basis points in the interest rates would have an equal but opposite effect.

(d) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Group is exposed to foreign currency risk as a result of its normal trade activities when the currency denomination differs from its functional currency.

Foreign exchange exposures in transactional currencies other than functional currencies of the operating entities are kept to an acceptable level.

The following table illustrates the effect of changes in exchange rate on the translation of foreign currency monetary items against the functional currency at 31 December 2014. If the major currencies weakened by 3% at the end of the reporting period, the Group's and the Company's profit before tax will improve/(decline) by:

MAJOR CURRENCY	2014 RM'000	2013 RM'000
Group
United States Dollar	4,350	4,040
Company
European Euro	(1,120)	(4,390)
United States Dollar	4,510	4,490

A similar percentage increase in the exchange rate would have an equal but opposite effect.

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (continued)(d) Foreign currency risk (continued)

The Group operates internationally and is therefore exposed to different currencies of the countries where the Group operates. Exposure to currency risk as a whole is mitigated by the operating environment which provides for a natural hedge. Most payments for foreign payables is matched against receivables denominated in the same foreign currency or whenever possible, by intragroup arrangements and settlements.

(e) Market price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of the Group's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than interest or exchange rates).

The Group does not actively trade in quoted equity investments apart from certain investments by subsidiaries in bonds/equity in relation to pension scheme investments. The value of such investments subjected to market price risk are small and as such the effects of the market price fluctuations to the Group is not material.

A proxy appointed to attend and vote at the Meeting shall have the same rights as the Member to speak at the Meeting.
2. Where a Member of the Company is an authorised nominee as defined under the Securities Industry (Central Depositories) Act, 1991 ("SICDA"), it may appoint at least one (1) proxy in respect of each Securities Account it holds with ordinary shares of the Company standing to the credit of the said Securities Account.

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON SPECIAL BUSINESS:

Ordinary Resolution 4

To approve the proposed renewal of authority for Directors to issue shares pursuant to Section 132D of the Companies Act, 1965.

The proposed Ordinary Resolution 4 if passed, will give powers to the Directors to issue up to a maximum 10% of the issued share capital of the Company for the time being for such purposes as the Directors would consider in the best interest of the Company. This authority, unless revoked or varied by the Company at a general meeting, will expire at the next Annual General Meeting of the Company.

The general mandate sought for issue of securities is a renewal to a general mandate sought in the preceding year. As of the date of this Notice, 40,500,000 new shares in the Company were issued pursuant to the mandate granted to the Directors at the Thirty-second Annual General Meeting held on 18 June 2014. The renewal of the general mandate is to provide flexibility to the Company to issue new securities without the need to convene separate general meeting to obtain its shareholders' approval, which would incur additional cost and time. The purpose of this general mandate is for possible fund raising exercises including but not limited to further placement of shares for purpose of funding current and/or future investment projects, working capital and/or acquisitions.
